Chapter 4: e3 Statement

Chapter 1 About DATIS

Your organization is on a mission to improve lives and strengthen communities. In order to provide these important services, you need an organized and motivated workforce rallying behind your mission. At DATIS, our mission is to help you achieve yours by building better software to empower your organization with the tools you need to succeed.

For more than 20 years, we've been working hand-in-hand with Health and Human Services organizations to develop HR and Payroll software that's tailored to your unique and complex needs. Today, we continue o deliver this solution to organizations impacting lives for social good across the nation.

Did You Know?

Our company name is DATIS (pronounced day-tis). The name of our unified HR and Payroll platform is e3. e3 stands for "empower. engage. evolve" because it has been purpose-built to empower leaders, engage employees, and evolve your organization.

The DATIS software, e3, is a modern and mobile platform built to empower your leaders, engage your workforce, and evolve your organization.

Our cloud-based, all-in-one system works the way you work. It grows as your organization grows. And it is continuously improved and optimized to help you overcome operational obstacles throughout your organization.

The e3 Platform

The DATIS e3 platform is a fully unified HR and Payroll solution encompassing all aspects of the employee lifecycle including Recruiting, Onboarding, Benefits, Time & Attendance, Payroll, Talent Management, and Business Intelligence, all built on a foundation of Position Control.

What is Position Control?

Position Control is an innovative, one-of-akind approach to HR and Payroll software. Built to help organizations control their costs and maximize their budgets, Position Control enables executives to plan, track, and manage their workforce by position, independent of the employees that occupy that position.

Chapter 2 The My Team Tab

The My Team tab is visible to all employees who have direct reports. This tab will serve as your central destination for all views and tools necessary to manage your workforce.

Manager's Dashboard

From the dashboard, managers can see quick statistics on timesheet approvals, workflow approvals, appraisals, recognitions, employees in or approaching overtime, learning management compliance, who's out, and open corrective actions.

This interactive dashboard enables Managers to click into the pie charts for Timesheet Approvals and appraisals and it will take them directly to those pages for more details.

Workflow Approvals Page

The approvals page is designed to allow managers to quickly view pending work orders that require their attention. The page can be accessed under the My Team tab right next to the Manager Dashboard Link.

Approvals Page Features:

- Navigation: Toggle between requests using the left and right arrows
- Detail Tabs: View all relevant information and more details about the request by clicking on the tabs
- Approval Trail: See who has initiated the request and who has approved so far
- View to top: See the chain of command for that relevant employee
- My Work Order History: Click this button to view previously reviewed workflows

APPROVALS

• Available actions:

- · Approve: Approve the request
- · Deny: Deny the request
- I Need More Time: Request more time to review the approval. All workflows are set to expire within a certain time frame defined by your Administrator
- Leave a comment: All comments will be included in the notifications upon the final approval or denial of this request

Team Views

Team Views allow you to see information about all of your direct reports in one place, which is great for side-by-side comparison, team-wide views of timesheets submitted or leave requests, and for viewing all applicants for positions that report to you. To access Team Views, click on the "My Team" tab in the menu bar, and view the links underneath the Team Views header.

Applicants can be viewed under the My Team tab on the Applicants Team view page or a link will show on the home page called "New Applicants" should there be any applicants for positions the manager is recruiting for.

Applicants Page Features:

- View Options: Managers can filter positions by Open and Closed statuses, and click on the different positions to view all of the applicants for each one. Applicants can be filtered by Hired and Not Hired as well as Disqualified or Not Disqualified. The position highlighted in orange is the position for which applicants are currently being displayed on the screen.
- Acting As: Managers can act as themselves or as a supervisor underneath them. This allows managers to look through the My Team views through their entire span of control. There is also an option to view only direct reports or all reports.

Available Applicant Actions:

- · Contact the applicant
- · Rate the applicant
- $\cdot$  Change the recruiter
- · Add applicant to another posting
- · Unlock application
- · View other applications for applicant
- · Request/Edit/Cancel Approval to Hire
- · View comments and emails
- · View credentials
- · View employment documents
- · View application
- · Select the applicant progress steps

It is important that managers rate each experience with an applicant for ranking purposes. Select the number of stars that represent your interaction with the applicant. Type comments so the recruiter can see why the applicant was given that rating. Select a "Pro" or "Con" when appropriate, and then select "Save". Once saved, you will be given the opportunity to send an email.

Requesting Approval to Hire

When you've chosen an applicant to hire, select the applicant's name from the list and click the "Request Approval to Hire" button. Once clicked, it will ask for the employment details.

Corrective Actions

The Team View of Corrective Actions will display a full list of the employees on their team who have active corrective actions, as well as performance improvement plans. From this page, Managers can add an outcome, upload a file, and add further explanations. Fields that are grayed out must be modified by an administrator. Managers have the ability to start corrective actions from their organizational chart, or from the corrective actions page.

Starting a Corrective Action

There are two ways to start a Corrective Action including from the Organizational Chart and from the Individual Views Corrective Actions page.

Option 1: You can begin a Corrective Action from the Individual Views Corrective Actions page under the My Team tab.

Option 2: From the Organizational Chart you can right click on the employee's tile and select "Start Corrective Action" from the drop down.

Alternatively, you can directly click the employee's name to open up the Employee Details pop up and select "Start Corrective Action" from the Actions drop down.

Performance Management Page Features:

- Acting As: Change this drop down selection to view below you in your chain of command if applicable.
- View Drop down: The page will default to "All" and you can also select "Actionable" to see only appraisals that are ready to be performed.
- Compliance: Shows the percentage of evaluations completed on time.

• One Time Tab: Contains evaluations that are nonrecurring (Ex: Initial 90 Day evaluation). Tip: You can check "Show Historical" to view past evaluations.

• Perform Now Button: If the button is red, the appraisal can still be performed but is considered late. Orange buttons indicate the appraisal is still considered on-time. A faded button indicates the appraisal cannot be performed yet.

To navigate to a different employee, click on the employee's photo at the top of the screen. The page informs managers when timesheets are due, when the approval is due, as well as whether prior weeks have been submitted on time. This page automatically defaults to the current timesheet period. The period can be changed by going to the drop-down menu and selecting a different period. Leave balances also display in the top right.

Timesheet Status Bar:

- Full Red Bar: Not submitted, Not Approved
- Half Green/Half Red Bar: Submitted, Not Approved
- Full Green Bar: Submitted and Approved

To navigate to a different timesheet of that same employee, click on the orange arrows next to the time frame in the gray bar. If timesheets need to be edited, they must first unapproved and unsubmitted.

Timesheet Views:

- Day View
- Week View
- Calendar View
- Clock punches

Day View

The Day View of the timesheet will display total number of worked and non-worked time over the timesheet period, as well as pay types, shifts, the total number of hours, and the amount. To edit the document on this view, you can click on the document icon next to each of the days you need to change.

Calendar View

The Calendar View option will show a consolidated and stacked two-week view, which is helpful for viewing timesheets over more than a one-week period at a glance. You can edit time on this view by simply clicking into the cells next to Worked or Non-Worked Time and the Total cell will calculate automatically or click on the "+ more" link to view and edit that day.

Clock Punches

The punches from the Clock Punch View will provide the date, the time, the direction (in, out, transfer), the sources of the punch (IP address), and any notes regarding the punch. Managers can copy/paste the longitude and latitude of the punches into Google if they want a map view of where that punch came from. Note: IP Filters are set up by administration to restrict employees to clocking in from specified locations. This only allows location view at the moment of the punch, not a continuous access to the employee's location.

e3 will not allow employees requiring effort reports to submit their timesheet unless they have allocated all of their worked time. If there is a correction flag for "Effort Report Out of Balance", it means that some of the days are not filled in. The effort report will have red dots next to the days not in balance, as shown in below screenshot.

Timesheet Approval Grid

The Timesheet Approval Grid Team View page will show the timesheets that have not been submitted, those that are submitted and unapproved, and those that are submitted and approved. This will also quickly highlight any errors on that timesheet (i.e. leave balances exceeding, effort report unbalanced, missing/overlapping punches).

Who Is Going To Be Out?

The Who Is Going To Be Out Team View Page will show the times pending approval, and approved days an employee will be all, or partially absent, will be depicted. This page helps managers ensure that appropriate staffing levels are maintained. The view can be jumped forward or backward by week or 30 day period using the green arrow buttons on the top right of the chart. There is also a quick link at the top of the page to jump to the current days view by clicking the blue button that reads, "Click here to go to today".

Canceling a Leave Request

If an employee wants to cancel a leave request, the employee can do that from their My e3 page or the manager can cancel it from this page as long as the date has not occurred (date is in the future). When you click on the future date, it will show the "Cancel Leave Request" button which will start the workflow for the manager's approval.

Individual Views

The Individual Views pages under the My Team tab features a series of pages for tracking and managing your workforce. The Individual Views pages are a great place to dive into more detail about each individual employee, versus the more high-level, side-by-side comparisons offered on the Team Views pages.

Attendance

The attendance calendar gives an individual employee overview of reasons why an employee has missed work for the entire year.

Attendance Page Views:

• Attendance Tab: Shows a monthly calendar view of all leave types. Different view filters can be applied as highlighted in the above screenshot.

- Balances Tab: Where the manager can view the current accrual balances for employee.
- Leave Requests Tab: Where the manager can view all leave requests submitted from employee.
- FMLA Hours Tab: If an employee is, or has been out on FMLA, managers can click on the FMLA tab to view total FMLA Hours during the past 12 months, or any date range entered.

Company Property

This page is designed to help managers track property that has been issued to an individual on their team, and ensure that if an employee terminates, they collect all property belonging to your organization.

Credentials

Managers view credentials held by their employees, as well as which ones are required for their current position, and the when they are due to expire.

Pay History

Depending on security permission, Managers may be able to view their employee's compensation, as well as several other fields on the Pay History Individual Views page. The filter feature allows them to sort by specific dates, quarters, or check date. The data can be expressed as an amount, gross pay, hours, or a quantity by using the radio buttons. This information can be exported by choosing one of the output options.

Skills

The Skills Individual View page allows managers to view each employees' skills, such as other languages or computer proficiencies.

Timesheets

The Timesheets Individual View page will display submitted and unsubmitted timesheets for a specific employee. To navigate to a different employee, click on the employee's photo at the top of the screen. The page informs managers when timesheets are due, when the approval is due, as well as whether prior weeks have been submitted on time.

Reporting

To access the Manager's Reporting features, click on "My Team" and view the Reporting list. Under Reporting, you will have the following options:

- Labor Trends
- Learning Management
- Vacancy
- Variable Employee

Note: Learning Management is a separate module in e3 that your company may or may not be using. Please reach out to the e3 administrators within your company for any questions.

Labor Trend Report

Depending on security permissions, managers may be able to view labor trends. Labor trends gives managers a quick glance at their labor cost over the past 8 time periods. The data can be filtered by the designated drop down, and expressed as dollars or hours (depending on security access). It can also be filtered by overtime premium or PRN costs by clicking on the buttons on the top right corner.

Variable Employee Report

The variable employee report allows managers to keep track of variable employees by viewing the time elapsed in their measurement period and their average weekly hours to date.

Vacancy Report

The vacancy report is a great resource to view the status of open positions, whether the positions are approved, and if Human Resources is recruiting to refill the position. It also provides insight into the daily-lost revenue associated with revenue generating positions. In addition, it will provide information regarding how many applicants have applied, and how many of them have actually been viewed. This report can also be grouped by any organizational level.

Position Control

To Access the Position Control pages, click on My Team and view the links underneath the Position Control header.

Position Details

The Position Details page allows managers to view the employee assigned to the position, their employee number, their FTE status, PayGroup, and job code information. You can also change the last two columns to show different organizational levels "Field 1" and "Field 2"

Assignment History

The Assignment History displays who has been assigned to the position in the past, who is currently assigned, and who is scheduled to be assigned to the position in the future, if applicable.

Job Description

The Job Description tab allows managers to view the job code description, as well as duties assigned to that position. Employees are asked to acknowledge their job description each time it is changed by the administration team. The print icon will allow managers to print out the job description if they need to review it with their team.

Rollups

Managers can utilize this page to see the total number of positions that report to them by job code. It will tell them how many are filled or open, and what the FTE status is for those positions. More importantly, it provides insight to the budgeted amount versus the actual total of compensation that is currently being paid out. The variance column can assist managers with requisitioning a new position by telling them what is left in the budget for that job code or if it has been under budgets.

Chapter 3 The Organizational Chart

The organizational chart has countless action items and information that managers can do in one place. Managers can access the organizational chart from the home page by clicking on the organizational chart icon in the main menu bar at the top of each page.

From the organizational chart, managers can change the view by selecting one of four views on the right-hand side of the page.

- · Position Name View (Default)
- Position Details View: Displays information about the position's FTE and number of reports
- Credentials View: Displays credential requirements of the position
- Position's Coding View: Displays details regarding the organizational dimensions assigned to the position (location, cost center, program, etc.)

If a position's tile has an orange tick in the top right corner, it indicates that the position has standard labor allocations set.

Position Requisition

Managers can request to have a new position created by clicking on the blue Position Requisition link in the top right. A box will pop up walking you through the steps.

First, select if you will create a position from scratch, or copy an existing position. When copying a position, you will be presented with a list of positions to select from, displayed as they currently sit on the organizational chart.

Available Employee Actions

- · Request a pay change
- · Transfer employee to another position
- · Assign a position to an employee
- · Terminate an employee
- Start a corrective action (as shown in the corrective actions section of this guide)
- $\cdot$  Change the employment status or weekly hours (FTE) of an employee
- $\cdot$  View/add notes on an employee
- · View employee's contact information

There are two ways to access employee actions:

Option 1: Click on the employee's name from the organizational chart and open the "Actions" drop down within the Employee Details pop up.

Option 2: Click on the white space within the position's tile to open the drop down menu.

Request Pay Change

Click the Request Pay Change link using one of the employee actions menus shown above. A pop up window will open and walk you through the pay change process.

Once an amount is entered, you will be able to see if the pay change they are requesting falls within the salary grade range for the position. Also, the job code range shows what is currently being paid to employees within that job code.

Even if the new compensation being requested falls within the salary grade range, the pay rate change may be out of policy for other reasons. If it is, managers will need to click on the out of policy icon and acknowledge the reason that it is out of policy before they can submit the request..

Then, search for the positions to add. Note: multiple positions can be selected, as applicable.

Once the positions are selected, you will indicate on the next page which position will be primary.

Changing Employees Position

There are two options to change an employee's position. Managers can choose to add a position to an employee with the "Assign Position to Employee" option. Or, Managers can use the "Transfer Employee" action to transfer an employee to another position, meaning it will unassign them from the current position and transfer the employee to the new position.

Option 1: Assign Position to Employee

Managers can choose to add a position to an employee's total assignments. When adding a position, it will ask which position should be considered the employee's primary assignment. To access this function, choose "Assign Position to Employee" from one of the Employee Actions drop down menus (shown above).

First, choose the effective date of the assignment.

| SELECT A START DATE FOR THIS | ASSIGNMENT | ×        |
|------------------------------|------------|----------|
|                              | Start Date |          |
|                              | 11.18.2019 |          |
|                              |            |          |
|                              |            |          |
| Back                         |            | Continue |

Follow the remaining steps for filling out information needed for the assignments. Once completed, it will go through the workflow approval process set up by your organization.

Option 2: Transfer Employee

Choose the "Transfer Employee" option from one of the Employee Actions drop down menus. Transferring an employee not only allows for a manager to request a reassignment to a new position, but also any associated pay rate change in the same workflow.

Once a manager selects to transfer the employee, they will be prompted to enter the effective date of the transfer along with the reason it is being requested (shown on next page).

The manager will then be asked to enter in the details about the employee's new assignment to the position. This includes fields like their weekly hours in the position, the new pay rate, and any career level associated with the new position's job code.

The e3 system will recognize if a manager is trying to assign an employee to the position for more FTE (weekly hours) than is available for the position at this moment and let the manager know the position is not available for the input weekly hours. The same acknowledgment is needed if the newly requested pay rate change is out of policy for any reason.

The manager will next be asked to select the employment status the employee will have in that position. The weekly hours will be pulled over from what the manager entered in the previous screen. e3 will account for the weekly hours requested and only present the available employment status to the amount of weekly hours input. Note: It will only pull relevant employment statuses to that position.

Finally, the manager will have a last review of all the information entered. After this request is finalized and submitted, the transfer request will follow the workflow path designated by your organization.

Terminate Employee

You can terminate an employee from the organizational chart by right clicking on the employee and selecting Employee Details. Click the "Terminate Employee" link from one of the Employee Actions menus to launch the Termination Wizard. Note: that this request does not terminate the employee upon completion. This only starts the request for the termination. The actual termination is set by HR upon final termination review where they set the date and time for the employee to be terminated.

The first thing a manager will be prompted to do is confirm that they truly do wish to terminate the selected employee.

Finally, the manager will have a last review of all the information entered. After this request is finalized and submitted, the transfer request will follow the workflow path designated by your organization.

The manager will then select the date they wish the employee to be terminated on. After the date is selected, the manager will enter the exact time of day which an employee will be terminated and their system access as an active employee will turn off.

Then the manager will be asked to select the termination reason from the drop down list configured. The list will only contain termination reasons which have been labeled as voluntary, as involuntary terminations will be handled by the HR department. There is another drop down list below the reason where the manager will select if the employee is eligible for rehire.

Next, the manager will be asked to attach any required or helpful documentation to the termination request for the employee. If the employee gave notice before they terminated, the manager will then select 'yes' and enter in when the termination notice was given and when the employee will be working until. If there was no notice given, the manager can select 'no' and instead just enter the employee's last day. The employee's last day worked is a field HR will be able to edit as well during the termination review in case the last day worked is not what was expected.

Lastly, the manager will have a final step to review all of the information and entered before finalizing the request to then be reviewed by HR.

Change Employment Status

Click the Change Employment Status link on the employee details pop up window, or right click on the employee's photo on the organizational chart and select Change Employment Status from the drop down.

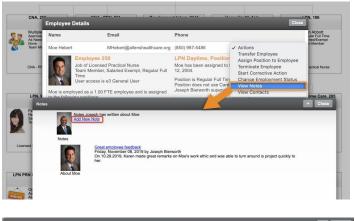

The manager will first be asked to select when the effective date this status change should take place on. The manager sees the employee's current status and weekly hours and is asked to select the new status and weekly hour amount. For a guide, the manager sees a list of guidelines for each of the employment statuses below the weekly hour amount. Any necessary attachments and comments for the request will be attached at the bottom before finalizing this request and sending off along the workflow path.

View Employee Notes

The Employee Notes functionality is fairly openended for managers. Click the "View Notes" link on the employee details pop up window, or right click on the employee's photo on the organizational chart and select View Employee Notes from the drop down.

When adding a new note about an employee, the manager will enter a subject for the note, and then the notes or the attachment to save with the employee.

View Employee Contacts

Click the View Contacts link on the employee details pop up window, or right click on the employee's photo on the organizational chart and select View Employee Contact Information from the drop down.

Through this view, a manager can see their employee's contact information in e3 such as their corporate/personal email and any entered telephone numbers. Managers may also have the ability to add new contact information for their employee depending on the security access set up by your organization.

Chapter 4 The e3 Statement

Depending on if your company has turned on this setting, the e3 statement is a semi-monthly email sent to employees and managers on the 1st and the 15th of each month. It includes information about credentials, performance management, and leave requests (depending on how your organization set up the e3 statement). To the right is an example of an e3 statement sent to a manager. It includes their own personal information in addition to their team's information regarding credential status, upcoming performance appraisals, and more.
